Discharge Summary

Name: Willie Dennis PACTS: 7729151

Date of Discharge: September 30, 2022 Date of Summary: September 30, 2022

Reason for Concluding Formal Services: Mr. Willie Dennis is being successfully discharged from AJS Counseling Services as there has been a change in Contract Provider. Mr. Dennis was referred to AJS Counseling Services April 2022 for a mental health assessment. The following Diagnostic Formulation and recommendations were made:

DIAGNOSTIC FORMULATION: Mr. Dennis was cooperative in all aspects. He was open and forthcoming in his responses. There is no evidence of a substance use disorder. There is no evidence of conduct disorder which is a precursor to antisocial personality disorder. There is no evidence of psychotic spectrum disorder or other thought disorders. Somatoform Disorders have been ruled out. He has a myriad of medical issues which include his ankle pain and hernias. He is dealing with the stress of his GPS/Home monitoring. He is the primary caretaker of his aging parents and as such he is not getting a full-nights rest. He has features of narcissism as evidenced by his name dropping, need to be the center of attention, and sense of entitlement (being treated differently). He is sensitive to criticism or defeat. He may not show externally, however, this criticism and defeat may leave him feeling humiliated, degraded, hollow or empty. This may lead to defiance or disdain and or counter action to defend himself. These experiences may lead to social withdrawal or appearance of humility which is masking grandiosity. Interpersonal relationships are often impaired because of entitlement, need for admiration, and sometimes a relative disregard of the sensitivities to others. Individual with his narcissistic features, despite achievements and ambitions may be disrupted due to his intolerance of criticism or defeat.

DIAGNOSTIC STATISTICAL MANUAL 5

Ankle pain and inguinal and umbilical hernias

Narcissistic Features

Stresses of Primary Caregiver

RECOMMENDATIONS: Mr. Dennis expressed a desire to participate in treatment. Treatment will focus on his thoughts and mood as to the unconscious injury he is experiencing given the role and environment he finds himself. Weekly sessions are requested with a combination of in-person and telehealth sessions based on feasibility of economics and allowed GPS movement by Mr. Dennis.

Responses to Treatment Services: Mr. Dennis responded well. He utilized treatment well. It helped diffuse his living and legal situation by allowing him to express his emotions. He had fewer calls to his USPT between sessions. He was removed from the GPS. In July the USPT no longer approved telehealth sessions and this greatly impacted Mr. Dennis's ability to attend due to finances and his demands of preparing for the case. We discussed the options of care and Mr. Dennis is voluntary and will consider whether he wishes to continue with the new Contract Provider, community provider or end treatment.

Recommendations for Community Aftercare: Mr. Dennis was provided treatment options.

Toxicology Report: Deferred to the USPT.
